Resumé 1989

71st Edition

Armstrong Township High School
Box 37
Armstrong, IL 61812

The Year in Review

August

—How in the world do they expect me to get all the way from Ag to my locker, open it, find the right books, and get to World History in 2 1/2 minutes? It takes me at least 45 minutes just to get out of bed in the morning!

September

—Well, if there's no fall baseball, I guess I'll have to stay after school and practice with the Volleyball team. I can't actually go home after school, and I can't start my homework before 10 p.m.

October

—Oh, no—not more ghost and haunted house stories in English . . . I've got to babysit on Elm Street tonight!

November

—Few people realize that ol' Sadie was the first women's Libber . . . Oh goodie, it's time for those unconventional activities at the FFA Convention.

December

—Good thing Brent only had his appendix removed and not his index or preface!

January

—Another good thing—we don't get our report cards 'til after Christmas! I probably wouldn't have had any goodies in my stocking.

February

—My heart's not in going to school today. I forgot to send myself any Valograms.

March

—SCHLARMAN—Spitting, Catholic, Hagseed, Larva, Arrogant, Regurgitated, Monks, and Neutered dogs. But it did take an overtime!

April

—Maybe I can get a part in the play as a Pink Panther, but after 3 visits to the tanning bed, I'm a regular red panther!

May

—“Tomorrow and tomorrow and tomorrow, creeps in the petty pace . . . ” And so how many tomorrow's until school's out?

Today

Welcome to Resume '89.

Despite our best efforts, this yearbook represents only a small part of your high school career at Armstrong. The yearbook pages can never take the place of our actual memories here at ATHS, but we hope in the future you can look back and recall some of those most important times and memories.

There were many individuals who contributed to the publication of our yearbook. Stacy Frerichs and Lisa Buck served as our layout and typing editors. Ann Hubner and Elizabeth Mulvaney were our photography editors. These girls along with our advisors, Mrs. Knight and Mrs. Roberts, helped make this year's edition what it is; and we as co-editors appreciate all their hard work. As a staff, we became dependent on each other for help and support when deadlines approached.

We would like to thank our advertising patrons for their support.

Thanks to all who helped, and good luck to the students we will leave behind. We hope you enjoy Resume '89, and we hope it will bring back fond memories of the 1988-89 school year as you leaf through its pages.

Lorin and Erin
Co-Editors

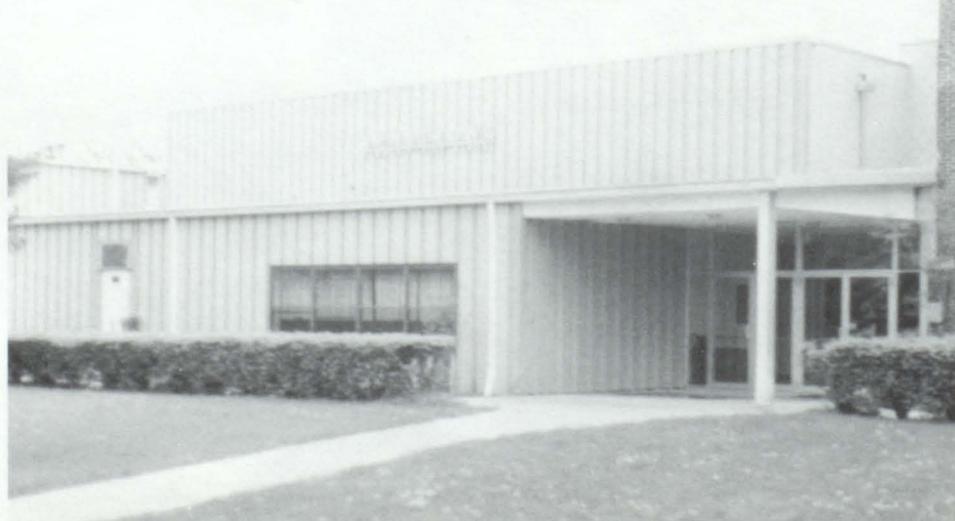

Erin Clingan and Lori Piatt accept the challenge to serve as Co-Editors.

The doors we entered in 1985 as freshmen and leave as seniors to be the best we can.

The 1967 gymnasium addition was a necessity for a well-rounded education.

Yesterday

Hiding behind the trees in 1930.

Which one had more horse power?

Looking out the front door towards the church.

According to the very first Armstrong High School yearbook, The Purple and Gold printed in 1918, the fall of 1914 saw some thirty students enrolled in a fledgling two-year education program which needed some improvements. The greatest such need was for more room. Originally, the students met in a lodge hall in town and later moved to a private dwelling on "Main Street," which also proved too small. So it was with great pride of accomplishment in September 1916 that the first Armstrong school board, elected only two short years earlier, could dedicate a brand new building and thereby realize the town's dream of its very own school. That building, despite many changes still stands proud and strong to greet its ninety students today.

Other improvements to come later included the first bus shed in 1923 and the first home-constructed bus in 1928 to carry the far-away Collison students. Then came the need for a vocational building in 1950 to be used for agriculture and industrial arts. A new bus garage was added at this time also. In 1968, a new addition was added to the school, focussing on a large gymnasium to accommodate more fans at games.

Since then, many great educators and graduates have passed through this fine old school building, putting forth a tremendous effort in making Armstrong Township High School the educational community that it is. Much hard work and pride was put into the making of this school, and it's that same pride and dedication that keeps it here, despite whatever obstacles the future may hold.

Didn't your teacher ever tell you not to sit on the desks?!?

How does the war look from the hill?

Mrs. Roberts is always looking for new ideas for the yearbook.

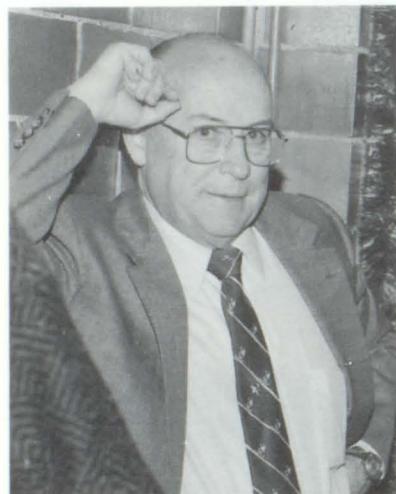

It's class competition, not the FHA shopping trip.

It'll take a stronger wind than that to blow Mr. Harlan over.

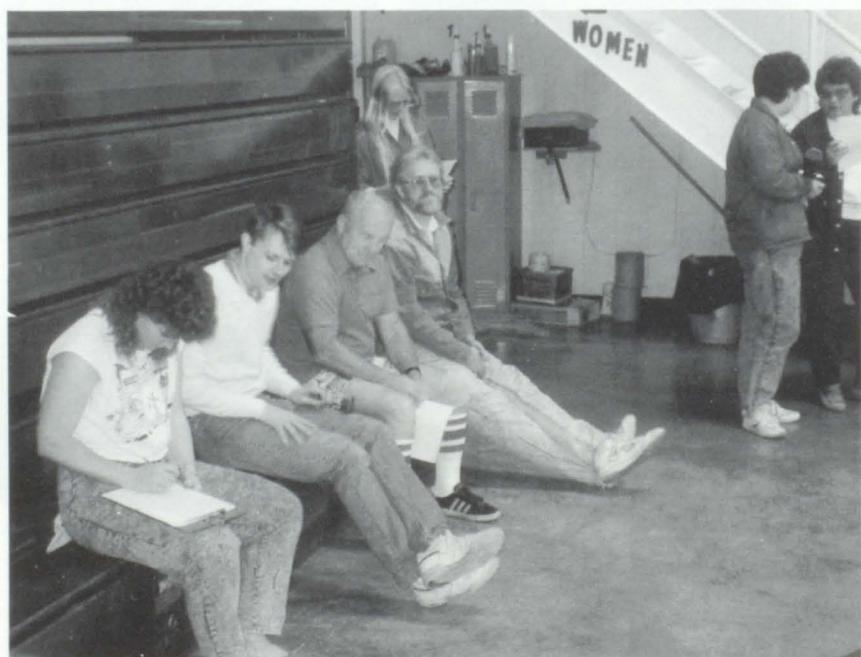

Don't trip over that line on the floor, Coach!

What are these kids up to now?

It doesn't take much to get Miss Street excited!

Since when were jeans and shorts part of the teachers' dress code?!?

Seniors Chosen as the Most . . .

Brand and Elizabeth are showing they are MOST TALENTED in a variety of things.

Don't Bill, Jason, and John look like the seniors MOST LIKELY TO CRUISE the parking lot?

Steve, is this a good example to set as the MOST LIKELY TO BE HEALTHY?

Shhh! Don't disturb Becky and Stacy, the QUIETEST, they might have something to say.

Straight from Spiegel's, Kim and Kim back up their votes of being BEST DRESSED.

Each Senior has a Place in our Class

No one had to wrestle with the decision of Matt and Garla as CLASS CLOWNS.

Lisa and Brent, MOST ATHLETIC, are ready for the next sporting event.

Angie, Stacy, and Jamie go to great heights to build BEST PERSONALITIES.

Will Lori and Ann make their escape to prove they are MOST LIKELY TO SUCCEED?

Mirror, mirror on the wall, Erin and Michael are the BEST LOOKING of them all.

Rolly and Melissa, CLASS FLIRTS, seems to have a familiar ring.

1988 Homecoming

The 1988 Homecoming Queen and King were Melissa Schluter and Matt Knight. Their court included senior candidates, Kim Gordon, Steve Lee, Lori Piatt, Brent Rademacher, Stacy Frerichs, and Michael Johnson. Also included were junior attendants, Wes Harrison and Tammy Johnson; sophomore attendants Scott Spear and Shelly Roberts; and freshman attendants Bill Learned and Dione Heckerson. Vicki Jarboe and Carrie Rademacher were the emcees for the evening.

Kristy gives up her title to this year's new Queen with a smile.

English I students hard at work!

As school opened in the fall, some common quotes heard from the freshmen were:

“Where do I go?”

“How am I ever going to remember where everything is?”

“Four years of this!”

“I thought Mr. Cox was the bus driver, not the Biology teacher, too!”

“At least there aren’t any seniors in my P.E. hour!”

“What do I do if I can’t get my locker open?”

“Maybe General Math isn’t such a bad idea after all!”

“I’m expected to find my locker, remember my combination, get my locker open, get my books for the next class, and be in my seat when the bell rings in 2½ minutes.”

“Oh well, there’s always next year.”

Don't you hate it when ...

—all your tests are on the same day.

—Miss Street won't give you "un dia libre."

—you're running to lunch from Biology II and you fall and hit your head.

—somebody unjams your locker.

—you run out of Paul Mitchell.

—you fall asleep in World History.

—someone puts a dead raccoon in the Driver's Ed room.

—your locker won't open right before lunch.

—everyone gets A's on an English test except one person.

Gettin' Around

There were many ways of transportation to Armstrong High School this year. Rides ranged from school buses to walking. The majority of underclassmen rode the bus. A few brave souls rode motorcycles. Some chose to "rod around" in their "bad" cars. The fitness conscious of the school rode their bikes. Although the majority of people have Reebok shoes, only some chose to put them to the walking test.

Regardless of the mode of transportation, one could be assured if you weren't in the double doors by 8:15 a.m. sharp, you would be issued a tardy slip with a reason needed!

Ann,

Congratulations! We are very proud that we can give to the world such a wonderful person. We know you will be an inspiration to all who meet you. We wish you much success, happiness, and love. God bless you.

Love,
Mom and Dad

Goodbye to:

Ms. Street (M. Rue)—Always remember Don Ho and the Poke's Cafe.

Mrs. Roberts—Never change your ways and don't become discouraged when titled "old fashioned." You help make ATHS what it is. I'll miss you.

Betty—Thanks for all the candy and for being my buddy. No one here likes you anyway! Ha! Ha! I love ya!

Ms. Bohlen—You sure did learnt me a hole bunch. Thanks for being so down to earth and, of course, for still remembering "May Day," (think of me always) "Tomorrow and Tomorrow and Tomorrow . . . "

Mrs. Herman—Remember my expert driving skills and just me. Did they ever think of getting a 4 X 4 truck for the driver's ed vehicle?

Mr. Harlan—Thanks for letting me serve you.

Mr. Coan—Thanks for my Credo knowledge in Humanities. Dude, remember 10:15 always.

Mr. Cox—Thanks for second tests in Physics.

Mrs. Knight—Thanks for showing me how to run over curbs in Champaign and be able to blow it off. Good day!

Mr. Stagen—Thanks for the admit slips.

Mr. Wise—"Put a big red rose on the end of your nose." I think I want to be a . . . ! Ya that's it! Horehound Candy.

Coach Bob—How about a Civic Duty today?—perhaps a spider watch.

To my fellow classmates—Thanks for all of the good ole ATHS memories and the family-like relationships our class has. It's a great "thing" we all shared. We had it all. I'll miss it. Best of luck to you and remember me always.

I Love You Guys,
Erin

—Oscar Favant

Dear Lori & the Class of '89,

It's been 4 quick years for us—or maybe 13. You are such a "Special Class" so friendly, competitive—in a lot of things, especially academics and sports— helpful, enthusiastic, bright, etc. We'll miss your high school days as we won't be "in on the scoop" anymore. Being a Potomac High grad, I've become a big ATHS fan!

The very best to each one of you in the future and keep striving for the top and have no regrets about the past.

Congratulations!

Love,
Mom & Dad

Ann,

Congratulations, Sis! Good luck in college and with everything you do. Don't forget "cheese and chips every Saturday," "What do you do for a living?" "Wanna split this with me?" Now I'll have to face beautiful, well-dressed, and smiling Brenda all on my own! But always "Be of good cheer . . . "

You're not only a great sister but a good friend. Thanks for listening to me, for all of the good advice, and for all of the fun times we've shared together. You know I'll miss you!

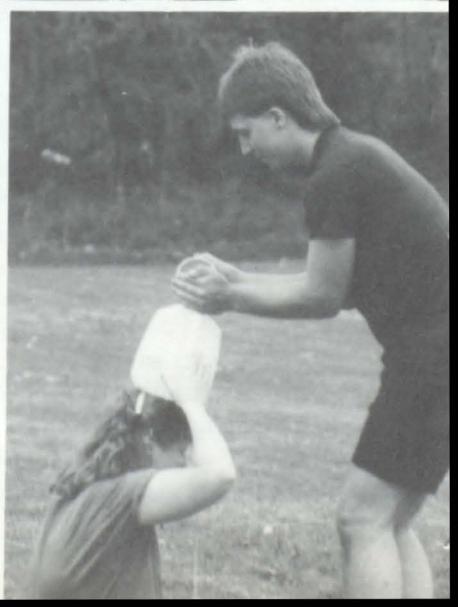

Lots of Love,
Your sis, Nicole

Erin,

My friend, words don't do justice to the friendship that we've shared. You have given me so much of yourself. We've counseled each other through many difficult times and many happy times. My life in high school would not have been the same without you. You and I have done everything from pancakes in Home Ec I to Computer in Ag IV. All of our memories are very special to me. I know that our lives are leading us in different directions; and we will never feel the closeness that we have felt here, but I will always feel close to you. You have been my bestest friend through thick and thin, and I know that we will always be special friends no matter how many miles or how much time separates us.

Thank you for being there for me. I love you.
